A map is especially important in this era of energy constraints. I urge you to use it in good health and with good sense.
Pick your routes with care. Use the shortest and safest to bring in your materials, ship out your products, and reach your recreational destination.
Pick your times with care. Travel only as often as necessary so there may be fuel for all reasons in all seasons.
And choose the most energy-efficient travel available to you.
The part of the world that is Wisconsin is as dependent as any on its mobility. By caring and sharing, we can continue to enjoy the conveniences to which we are all accustomed.

Governor
State of Wisconsin
